

Call for participation: SEA-EU Science Show for early-career researchers, 26 September 2025 in Kiel

To celebrate 10 years of the European Researchers Night in Kiel we are very pleased to host again the SEA-EU Science Show:

We are offering scholarships to enthusiastic early-career researchers from the SEA-EU Alliance to be a part of this truly European experience.

WHO? We are looking for PhD/doctoral researchers from any discipline who are currently studying or employed at one of the SEA-EU Universities. We will give preference to candidates with a passion for science communication in general.

WHEN? Arrival must be on Monday, 22 September and departure on Saturday, 27 September 2025.

WHAT? The scholarship includes

- a 3-day science communication training workshop from 23-25 September in Kiel (in person)
- a 5-7 minute public presentation of your research at the Science Day in Kiel on 26 September (in person), and
- a feedback session in October (online)

Participation in all sessions is mandatory when accepting the scholarship. All sessions are held in English.

HOW MUCH? The scholarship will cover

- Transportation costs, incl. flights, trains and airport transfers (only second class/economy travel, no taxis)
- Accommodation costs, booking of hotels will be organised by Kiel University

HOW? Applications consisting of a short CV and abstract of your research should be submitted no later than 10 August to uevert@gz.uni-kiel.de

In case of more than 10 applications we will have an internal selection process.

In order to achieve the greatest possible diversity, a maximum of two researchers from the same university can be selected.

Should you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact EUoffice@uv.uni-kiel.de.

More about the Science Show here.